WHY APPLY?

Located on the outer coast of Alaska's Inside Passage, the City and Borough of Sitka is settled on the west side of Baranof Island in the Alexander Archipelago; part of the Alaska Panhandle. Sitka offers unmatched natural beauty, a rich history, and endless recreational activities from legendary fishing to world class hiking.

This is an excellent opportunity for a talented human resource professional to make a difference in a community that is dedicated to providing outstanding services to its citizens and a welcoming experience to its many visitors. If you are looking for a challenging and rewarding career opportunity and love the great outdoors, this is the right position for you!

THE COMMUNITY

Sitka is the fourth largest city in Alaska with a population of approximately 9,000 and is renowned throughout the state as a cultural and educational capital. It is also a popular tourist destination and a port of call for major cruise lines that travel the Inside Passage. Sitka is accessible by air and sea, with several daily flights from Anchorage and Seattle, and ferry service for passengers and vehicles provided by the Alaska Marine Highway System. The area has an oceanic climate with moderate temperatures that rarely go below zero or above 75 degrees.

Sitka boasts a history dating back 10,000 years when the Tlingit natives migrated to the area. Sitka became the Russian-American capital and was known as the "Paris of the Pacific." Many of the sites and traditions that make up Sitka's cultural heritage are still at the center of daily life in the bustling downtown. Sitka was the site of the ceremony in which the Russian flag was lowered, and the United States flag was raised after Alaska was purchased by the United States in 1867. The flag lowering and raising event is re-enacted in Sitka every October 18th - Alaska Day.

The spirit of community is strong in Sitka and the crime rate is very low. The low-cost, high quality services offered by the City & Borough and the State of Alaska rank among the best in the nation.

Sitka enjoys one of the most diversified economies in the state. Strong sectors exist in commercial fishing and fish processing, cruise ship, tourism, healthcare, education, and government agencies. Sitka's workforce, like much of Alaska's, tops national norms for productivity and education. The overall education level of Sitka's citizens is substantially higher than the typical US community, with nearly 30% of adults having at least a bachelor's degree. There is a large professional class connected with the medical, education, natural resource management, and law enforcement sectors. Sitka is also the site of the Alaska State Trooper Academy.

The nearby 17 million-acre Tongass National Forest provides ample opportunity for hiking, backpacking and camping, and the island boasts world class diving and charter fishing trips. Sitka Sound is well known for its world class sea kayaking, ocean rafting, diving, and snorkeling. Sitka is a fisherman's paradise and offers saltwater sport fishing, as well as fresh water stream and lake fishing.

THE CITY

The City & Borough of Sitka is a unified home rule municipality created in 1971, and encompasses 8,900 square miles, making it the largest incorporated city-borough area in the United States. The Borough shares governmental responsibilities with the Sitka Tribe of Alaska, a federally recognized Indian tribe. Sitka operates under an Assembly-Municipal Administrator form of government in which the elected Mayor and Assembly members establish policy. Those policies are then implemented by the Administrator who is appointed by, and reports to the Assembly. The Assembly is comprised of 7 members with the Mayor being the Chair and meets twice a month with special sessions to discuss timely issues. Sitka provides a full range of municipal services, including Assessing, Centennial Hall, Clerk, Electric, Finance, Fire, Harbor, Information Technology, Legal, Library, Planning, Police, Public Works, Search and Rescue, Solid Waste, Water, and Wastewater. Sitka employs 150 FTE's and has significant capital and enterprise funds, operating on a total budget for 2019 of approximately $116.7 million including the General Fund.
