Message from the AML Executive Director

The Alaska Municipal League (AML) is proud to present the 2020 edition of our Municipal Officials Directory. This is the only publication in the state with annually updated contact information for all incorporated cities and boroughs in Alaska. We hope you'll keep it on hand as you have questions for municipal officials or need a quick reference guide to municipal powers.

It is important to keep in mind that no two municipalities are alike. Each has added or excluded powers based on their circumstance and the public interest. Each is working through a variety of community concerns, economic considerations and unique challenges. There is great variety in the classes of both boroughs and cities, and the relationships within a borough are very different than those experienced within the Unorganized Borough.

At the same time, each municipality is impacted by decisions made by the State of Alaska or the Legislature. It is critical that public and elected officials consult with elected local leaders as legislation is considered. AML encourages collaboration in this regard.

If you are interested in more information about Alaska's local government, please request from us our local government primer. This will describe more fully municipal powers and responsibilities, social and economic impact, and interests.

For more than 30 years, the AMLJIA has provided cost effective risk financing and innovative loss control programs to protect Alaska's local governments. Our commitment to customized service is the backbone of our strong partnerships. Today, our membership has grown to include 159 municipalities, school districts, and charter schools. Collaboration between the AMLJIA and our membership builds successful risk management programs that show results: safer employees, fewer claims, member credits, and innovative coverage solutions.

In addition to the coverage you need, AMLJIA members receive key services that support your work. We offer preventive education and training that help you reduce or eliminate losses, human resources consulting and the Employment Law Hotline to help manage your people risks, police professional liability consulting, and other tools that simplify day-to-day risk management for your entity.

A black and white photograph of a modern playground structure called Hedra. The structure is composed of interconnected hexagonal and circular frames with perforated metal panels. A woman and a child are climbing on the structure. The Exerplay logo, featuring a stick figure jumping over a dotted line, is at the top. The text 'exerplay INC' is in a large, lowercase, sans-serif font. Below the photo, the text 'Hedra™' is in a large, serif font, followed by 'The New Shape of Play!' in a large, bold, sans-serif font. Contact information for Karl Croft is listed below in a smaller, sans-serif font.
