NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED:

1. Outbreak Health Orders. Everyone in the City of Unalaska (the City) must follow all outbreak health orders issued by the State of Alaska. Review local requirements carefully as some are more restrictive than state outbreak health orders.

2. Face Coverings. All customers and visitors of businesses and organizations that are open and operating must wear face masks covering their nose and mouth to provide additional protection for employees and customers. The face coverings need not be medical-grade masks or N95 respirators, but can be cloth face coverings. Face masks may be temporarily removed as necessary and incidental to utilizing the business or service.

A cloth face covering is a material that covers the nose and mouth. It can be secured to the head with ties or straps or simply wrapped around the lower face. It can be made of a variety of materials, such as cotton, silk, or linen. A cloth face covering may be factory-made or sewn by hand, or can be improvised from household items such as scarfs, T-shirts, sweatshirts or towels.

A business owner or operator may refuse admission or service to any individual who fails to wear a face covering as required by this resolution.

3. Traveler Quarantine. A person traveling into the City by vessel or airplane, from another community or port, must self-quarantine for 14 days upon arriving at their destination and monitor for symptoms of illness. During travel and following the quarantine period, adherence to CDC guidance, State of Alaska health orders, and local orders and resolutions is required. This includes appropriate social distancing measures and adherence to face covering requirements. People traveling for critical business purposes are required to follow all State of Alaska health orders including complying with their approved state plans.

a. Employees of businesses engaged in Essential Services or Critical Infrastructure industries, traveling to Unalaska to provide such services, must self-quarantine

All workers under this critical workforce exception are required to self-quarantine during non-work hours within the 14 day time period. See Section 4, definition of Essential Services and Critical Infrastructure Industries.

- b. Patients or travelers arriving in Unalaska/Dutch Harbor, whose final destination is not Unalaska/Dutch Harbor, are required to self-quarantine during their stopover, but not remain here for the entire 14 day time period. This includes, but is not limited to, air travel.
- c. For individuals arriving on a vessel, time spent at sea is credited to the 14 day quarantine period. The time at sea is counted from the time of departure from the last location at which a crew member disembarked the vessel, provided that no one has boarded the vessel in that time. Vessel captains shall maintain a ship's log or equivalent record demonstrating compliance with Outbreak Health Order No. 5 and appendices, when applicable, and detailing all activities at port or contact with other vessels or personnel during the time for which they seek credit for time at sea. For vessels that have been at sea more than 14 days and no one has disembarked or boarded the vessel, no quarantine is required unless individuals are showing symptoms of COVID-19, including, but not limited to fever, chills, or respiratory symptoms. Vessels at sea for less than 14 days, where no one has disembarked or boarded the vessel, may complete their quarantine in port as long as quarantine is not broken for the remainder of the 14 days.
- d. Anyone who is required to self-quarantine must adhere to the following:
 - 1) A person in self-quarantine may leave the designated quarantine location for:
 - i. medical emergencies or to seek medical care;

 - 3) Visitors are not allowed in or out of the designated quarantine location other than a physician, healthcare provider, or individual authorized to enter the designated quarantine location by Unified Command.
 - 4) Comply with all rules or protocols related to your quarantine as set forth by your hotel or rented lodging.
 - 5) If a person is required to self-quarantine and there are other individuals in their residence, hotel room, or rented lodging, all persons in the quarantine location must comply with social distancing guidelines, sanitize regularly touched surfaces, and follow CDC best practices for hand washing.

This resolution expires November 25, 2020. The date was set so that Council could reconsider the action at the November 24 Council Meeting.

BACKGROUND: The nation, state and our city are in a state of emergency and in the midst of a public health crisis. On November 6, the Governor announced a new 30-day Public Health Disaster Emergency, effective November 16 and extending to December 15, 2020.

Previous Governor Mandates and related state measures have been revamped into COVID-19 Outbreak Health Orders.

- Outbreak Health Order 1: Suspension of Laws. This lists the statutes, regulations and orders of state agencies that have been suspended so that they do not prevent, impede or delay actions necessary to cope with the public health crisis.
- Outbreak Health Order 2: Courtesy Licenses Telehealth Background. This encourages the use and availability of telehealth providers.
- Outbreak Health Order 3: Shareholders Meetings. This allows corporations, including Native Corporations, to hold meetings and take actions through electronic communications.

- Outbreak Health Order 4: Non-congregate Sheltering. This allows for the use of Non-Congregate shelter solutions, such as hotels and college dormitories to provide temporary shelter for specific populations, including homeless individuals and healthcare workers.
- Outbreak Health Order 5: Critical Infrastructure. This order, and the details in the appendices, provide clear guidance for critical infrastructure businesses operating in the State of Alaska.
- Outbreak Health Order 6: International and Interstate Travel. This provides details on requirements for travelers entering the State of Alaska.
- Outbreak Health Order 7: Online Ticket Sales. This allows for the online ticket sales of raffles and contests so that the proceeds may benefit charities in Alaska.
- Outbreak Health Order 8: Intrastate Travel. This order provides guidance for intrastate travel. This also makes it clear that in-state travel is allowed for all purposes, however local communities may enact their own requirements and rules for travelers. Health Order No. 8, while very deferential to local communities, creates certain limits which are already incorporated into Unalaska's protective measures. For example, local communities must continue to allow Critical Infrastructure Workers and law enforcement officers to travel in furtherance of their work. Health Order No. 8 also includes testing recommendations for travel to rural communities. Because Unalaska is currently considered to be on the Marine Highway system, the Health Order does not require testing to travel to Unalaska. People traveling from Unalaska to rural communities would have to following the testing protocols in Health Order No. 8.

Cases are rapidly increasing throughout the State of Alaska and beyond. There is increasing demand on hospital and ICU beds as well as the need for health care professionals. We must all continue to be diligent in our efforts to keep ourselves and community healthy, and to not overwhelm the health care system. Additionally, we must do all we can to keep businesses and schools open.

We have demonstrated that mitigation strategies work, and understand that no one tool is enough. Hand washing, face coverings, getting the flu shot, keeping social circles small, and social distancing measures are effective strategies and things we can all do to help. These strategies are further complimented by other tools such as testing and contract tracing. The mitigation strategies outlined in local resolutions (face coverings, quarantine, and safety protocols) are all other tools aimed to help us keep our community and economy healthy.

If we develop widespread and community spread of the virus locally, and increase our local risk level to HIGH, additional mitigation strategies may be considered. These would be considered by City Council and would likely include business closures (particularly bars and in person dining at restaurants), limits to public gathering sizes, and a return to hunkering down. Private businesses and organizations would implement their response measures as well. This includes the school, which would transition to home based learning. The City would further limit access to public facilities.

DISCUSSION: Resolution 2020-73 is set expire December 9, 2020 but may be amended or extended as necessary, and will be revisited at the Council Meeting on December 8, 2020.

Many references to State and Governor Mandates now reference State of Alaska Outbreak Health Orders to reflect the recent change in the state regulatory scheme.

The following protective measures from previous resolutions remain in Resolution 2020-73, with the revisions noted:

- Face Coverings - Customers and visitors of businesses and organizations must wear a covering over their nose and mouth. This section has not been changed.
- 14 Day Traveler Self Quarantine - Individuals traveling into the City by vessel or airplane must self-quarantine, with limited exceptions. Some clarification has been added to address employees engaged in Essential Services or Critical Infrastructure industries and traveling to provide such services. A reference has been added to the definitions of Essential Services and Critical Infrastructure Industries now included in this resolution.
- Essential Services/Critical Infrastructure Protocols – The state is no longer referencing the Alaska Essential Services and Critical Workforce Order. Instead, Outbreak Health Order No. 5 refers to U.S Department of Homeland Security (Cyber and Infrastructure Security Agency) Memorandum regarding Critical Infrastructure Workers. The list of essential services in the Homeland Security document is even longer than the state’s former order, which then contained many occupations and services that were inapplicable in Unalaska.

In Resolution 2020-71, Unalaska adopted the May 5 Alaska Essential Services and Critical Workforce Order by restating the entire definition section to take steps to distance itself from the need for any state regulations, not knowing then whether any would be in place.

Section 4 of the resolution has not been revised. It is unclear whether the State’s adoption of the Homeland Security list will continue past the current emergency duration. In the future, it may be necessary to include the federal list or adopt it by reference. The current list likely includes all critical services that are needed in Unalaska.

The lengthy definition in the current resolution may be altered, amended, or simply adopted by reference in future resolutions to make the document shorter and clearer to the public. During the current transition at the state level, it should remain in place.

- Protective Protocols - All business open to the public must post their basic measures to protect the public health on their doors. This section has not been changed.
