

LATERAL POLICE OFFICER TWO WEEK ROTATIONAL POSITION

Dillingham Police Department
404 D Street
PO Box 869
Dillingham, Alaska 99576
(907) 842-5354

Dillingham is located in southwest Alaska in Bristol Bay at the confluence of the Wood and Nushagak Rivers. Dillingham is located approximately 327 air miles from Anchorage. Dillingham has a year-round population of 2,400 people. The population swells to over 5,000 people during the summer commercial fishing season. The Nushagak district is an important commercial fishing district, in the world's largest salmon fishery, Bristol Bay.

The Dillingham Police are responsible for general patrol, traffic enforcement, and criminal investigations. Investigative duties range from simple misdemeanor crimes to complex felony investigations. The police activity varies throughout the year. During the summer commercial fishing season, with the large influx of fisheries related persons, officers handle increased call volume. This busy period is exciting and provides excellent experience and opportunities for an officer to hone their craft. In the winter months activity slows down, but is steady enough to keep the job interesting.

The Dillingham Police is a small, tight knit department. Dispatch, patrol, and corrections are all located in the same building and all work together to accomplish the mission of providing public safety services to the community.

This two week rotational schedule, with round-trip airfare to Anchorage, a subsidized city apartment, and a substantial sign-up bonus. The lateral officer can live anywhere in the U.S.A. and work at the Dillingham Police Department.

This position is for lateral officers, current certified, or able to be certified in Alaska or another state, per Alaska Police Standards Council regulations.
