KODIAK

Kodiak is the second largest island in the United States. Situated in the northern Gulf of Alaska, just east of the Alaska Peninsula, the Kodiak Island Archipelago is home to about 13,000 people, less than 100 miles of mostly unpaved roads, and more than 3,000 of the world's largest brown bears. Despite the island's isolation, residents enjoy a cosmopolitan lifestyle, along with access to uncrowded beaches, extensive wilderness trails, and easy mountain hikes. Downtown boasts shops, galleries, restaurants, coffee shops, and museums. Commercial fishing, seafood processing, recreational hunting, fishing, tourism, and government make up the economy of Kodiak. The Kodiak Island Borough was incorporated on September 24, 1963. It is a second-class borough with a manager form of government.
